THE Dispatch is pleased to refer to our prediction that Col. Forney would indite a series of interesting letters from Europe during his travels, and to express its judgment that our favorable estimate of that gentleman's ability has not been sustained. One of the editors of the Dispatch was recently in Europe, and another is on the way thither. The one that has returned wrote a number of letters that were duly printed in his own columns; and he naturally presumes to know what a European letter should contain, and how the necessary facts and ideas should be expressed. Col. Forney only chronicles what he sees, and in an unartistical way states the impressions made thereby on his own mind and feelings. Our neighbor got his facts mainly from "Harper's Hand-Book for Travelers in Europe," as any man can see for himself, if he will take the pains we have, and garnished the facts with comments drawn from the same source. The Colonel should have taken lessons from our neighbor before setting out.

A FEW WEEKS AGO many prominent Republicans in Ohio were rivaling each other in the modesty and grace with which they severally disclaimed even a willingness to wear the gubernatorial honors. It seemed as if that high office would have to go a begging for some body to fill it. The difficulty is past. Several gentlemen who thought they did not want the place, have concluded it would be pleasant; and several more, who were passed by, have been found willing to sacrifice private ease for public honors.

THE Republicans of Beaver county have placed the following ticket in nomination: Assembly, Thomas Nicholson; Prothonotary, John Caughey; Treasurer, Captain E. Barnes; Commissioner, Wm. Ewing; Associate Judge, M. Lawrence. Resolutions in favor of General W. W. Irwin for State Treasurer and in favor of a free railroad law were passed. The delegates to the State Convention were instructed to vote for Hon. W. H. Williams, of Pittsburgh, for Supreme Judge.

ANOTHER responsibility of Telegraph companies has been decided by a jury in Buffalo. Some time since a swindler succeeded in obtaining a large sum of money from Prather, Chadsworth & Co., at Pit Hole, by means of a telegram received over the Western Union line from Buffalo, from a confederate. The firm brought action against the company for damages and have received a much heavier verdict than they claimed.

THE Ohio State Episcopal Convention is now being held at Cleveland. A letter from assistant Bishop Bedell of the Diocese of Ohio, dated Rome, and taking strong grounds in opposition to ritualism, was read and well received. The pomp and ceremony of the Catholic church at Rome, have had the effect of strengthening the Reverend writer's opposition to the departure from the spirit of the prayer book.

THE Republicans of Armstrong county have nominated for Assembly, Col. S. M. Jackson; for Sheriff, David G. Reed; for Treasurer, John McClelland; for Commissioner, Daniel Stagle; for District Attorney, J. O. Barrett; for Jury Commissioner, George B. Sloan; for Auditor, George P. G. Boreland; and for Trustees of Academy, Ross Mechling and George Bovard.

THERE happened in Philadelphia last evening a terrible accident. The boiler in the cabinet shop of Ward & Geis, Samson street, exploded, demolishing the entire building, which was a large and substantial structure. Nearly thirty persons are supposed to have been buried in the ruins. Thirteen were recovered last night, of whom eight were dead and five badly injured.

THE movement in opposition to Sherman's Military Reconstruction bill in Georgia, has certainly been started by an inconsiderable number of discontented politicians. Heretofore no State promised better in the way of reconstruction, and the people will set aside these new disturbers and faithfully organize according to the ways of Congress.

THE Republicans of Fayette county have appointed William Elliott, Esq., Senatorial delegate to the State Convention, Westmoreland and Greene counties concurring. They, also, appointed J. M. Dushane, representative delegate. They were instructed to support Mr. Williams for Supreme Judge.

THE National Typographical Union, in session at Memphis, have conferred on proprietors of newspapers the high privilege of joining the combination, providing they are practical printers. Proprietors will feel duly grateful for the honor so long withheld.

IT appears that a party of Boston Fenians have been captured by the English authorities, while endeavoring to effect a landing at Dungannon. They will hardly receive much mercy at the hands of their captors, nor do they deserve any.

THE Republican Convention of Blair county unanimously instructed its District Conferees to support Mr. Louis W. Hall for re-election to the State Senate. Mr. McCalmont was renominated for Assembly.

THE Wellsville Union, an ably edited and well conducted journal comes to us this week in an entire new dress and greatly enlarged. It is worthy of large patronage.

THE New York Constitutional Convention has adjourned till Monday next. The members are certainly in no hurry to get through with their important business.

THE United States Circuit Court in NorthCarolina was finally re-opened at Raleigh, yesterday, by Chief Justice Chase, after a lapse of over four years.

THE Homeopathists have decided to ignore female physicians. They are in favor of weak drugs, but opposed to the weaker sex administering them.

THE New York Times explains that the list of incomes of the editorial fraternity of that city, recently furnished, was touched up from imagination.

MANY of the cotton mills of the east have largely curtailed their production, as it has been ascertained that they have been running at a loss.

AN attempt upon the life of Napoleon while riding with the Czar of Russia, is announced by cable. The would-be assassin is unknown.

S. H. JOHNSON, of Sing Sing, has been chosen Grand Master of the Free Masons of New York.

MR. DURANT cannot be coaxed into the acceptance of the Governorship of Louisiana.

Two facts of weight ought to be considered. Regular army officers, with few exceptions, are in favor of dealing leniently with the rebels and with the rebellious States. General GRANT was reported to have gone so far as to express great satisfaction at the bailing of MR. DAVIS, and at GREELEY'S share in that transaction. Notwithstanding this decided leaning, each Military Commandant in the Southern States has recently felt compelled to remove more or less of the municipal officers in his Department. The President don't seem to comprehend why this is; and the democratic journals persist that it proceeds from an innate tendency in military men to resort to arbitrary measures. The fact is, that while considerable progress has been made in genuine reconstruction, a powerful section of the Southern people are now as bitterly hostile to the Union as at any former period. If the President will only have sense and moderation enough to let the Generals alone, the work of reconstruction will steadily progress.

Remarkable Career of an Eccentric Individual.

That strange, eccentric and somewhat famous old settler, Tom Kelly, died in his hut on the west slope of the beautiful bluff which bears his name, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, aged fifty-eight years. He was a strange character, and his name at least so generally known, though thousands in our city never saw him, that a sketch of his life will be read with interest.

Tom Kelly was one of the very first of the settlers on the tract of land included in the limits of Dubuque. He was born in King's county, Ireland, in 1809. He emigrated to Canada in 1828; he remained there two years and a half, and then went South, journeying through the Southern States to New Orleans. Thence he came up the Mississippi river and landed in Galena in 1831. In the spring of 1832 he came to Dubuque, and worked in the mines until he, with many others, was ordered off by lieutenant Jeff. Davis. He came back in 1834, built a cabin just opposite what is now Gratiot's brick yard, and, living there many years, and again commenced mining. He was one of the most industrious of miners. In 1834 he struck a big lode on the bluff, and held it until it was open for entry, when he came in possession of his lands. He was in company with Curtiff and Langworthy, and the mine was one of the most productive ever known on this side of the river. How much was taken out is not known. Several years after he discovered another lead on the bluff, near the present house, which also yielded largely. In 1838 he built a furnace on his bluff, and commenced smelting his own mineral. He lived all this time alone, only mixing with men as his business compelled him to do so, working hard either prospecting, smelting or mining.

In 1851 he shipped an enormous quantity of lead for New York via New Orleans. He had it insured for $20,000. On the way it was lost in the ocean, and he went to St. Louis to collect the insurance money, receiving drafts on New York for the amount. He started for New York with the drafts in his pocket, to get them cashed himself. At Albany his strange appearance, long hair, rough clothes and singular demeanor, caused illbred boys to follow and annoy him. The result was that one day he fired a pistol at a vexing crowd, and mortally wounded a man. He was tried and judged to be insane, and sent to the Utica Insane Asylum, the State authorities taking possession of his drafts, which they have retained ever since, to the amount of $10,000. What became of the rest is not known. He remained in the Asylum years, we think, when he escaped, and made his way back to Dubuque.

He then built a cabin on the south side of his bluff. It was composed of stone, was low and almost covered with earth. It had no windows, and but one small door. Below it he had a piece of ground, fenced with brush, which he cultivated. He did his own cooking and washing. His bluff, covered as it was with trees, was the resort of scores of people every summer's day, and is a most inviting picnic spot. It was free to all, if they would not abuse his trees nor approach his hut. Either of these transgressions annoyed him excessively, and the transgressor was soon made to feel that the best place for him was somewhere else. In 1862 or 1863 the roof of this hut caved in, and he vacated it, after putting up a worse one west of it, in a more retired spot. He continued his prospecting all these years, and in 1864 struck another lode, which has added largely to his wealth.

His singular mode of life, and his reputed wealth, as well as his rough appearance, made him notorious. Any one could endure living as he did in his hut, close and dark even in daylight, save as a candle lighted it, with the ground for his floor, we can't imagine.

But thus he lived here thirty years. He was taken ill a month ago, of bilious fever, we think. Then boils and carbuncles nearly covered his body, and weakened him so that his physician could not rally him. His nephew, William Kelly, and wife, took care of him till he died. His wealth is estimated at $100,000 by his relatives, though where it is, save the thirty acres on the bluff, and the mineral in his yard, neither they or any one else know. He leaves two brothers, a sister, two nephews and a niece. He made no will.—Dubuque (Iowa.) Times.

COL. MCCLURE managed to get to Denver, but he cannot contrive to get beyond. Writing, May 20th, he says:

"The Stage Company has declined passengers since the 12th instant. On that day Mr. Hooper, delegate to Congress from Utah, and others, started west but they have enjoyed the luxury of rusticating for a week at Cooper's Creek, without accommodations, and living on provisions sent them daily from this place by coach. From that point west for fifty miles there is no stock, and of course no transit for passengers. The horses not captured by the Indians, have been "bunched" at either end of the hostile country, and I doubt whether there will be regular coaches through for a month to come, if indeed they get into operation at all this season. The universal impression of the people is that the Indians are now stealing stock to mount their warriors, with the intention of inaugurating general hostilities as soon as the grass is sufficiently grown to feed their horses on the war path, and if this be true, the Indian troubles are just beginning, and a month hence there will be no coaches at all west of this point, and very few regular trips between this and the terminus of the railroad.

"I have exhausted every means I could devise to get off, but without in any degree facilitating my passage westward. Knowing as I do that General Augur has nearly or quite 5,000 troops in his department; that over 1,000 of them are at Fort Sedgwick, less than 200 miles east of this point, and that he has but this one great thoroughfare to protect—the only mail route being in Hancock's department—I cannot but be astonished to hear by telegraph, to hasten forward a sufficient number of troops to protect the stations and the travel. I was amazed to find less than 300 troops on the entire line between this and Salt Lake—a distance of 600 miles—and of that number less than one-third mounted or in any way fitted to protect a route. I took it for granted that General Augur would at once open the line, as it seemed to be entirely in his power to do so; but he telegraphed me a speech in reply, at the cost of $18.06, the material portion of which was that the route did not require protection, and that if it did he couldn't protect it. He also favored me with the luxury of a disquisition on the obstinacy of army contractors, who were preventing him from moving his army into the 'upper country.' I need not say that I ceased telegraphic communication with military headquarters. I may, if detained up at Big Laramie, get General Augur to telegraph me the 119th Psalm, if the time passes wearily; but I do not think it likely that I shall make any further telegraphic efforts to get the Indians out of the way."

—A man named Pollock, living in a tenement house in Edinburgh, was reading by his fireside the other evening when the hearthstone suddenly gave way under him, and he fell into a deep cavern full of water. His wife reached down and held him by the hair until assistance arrived. It turned out that the house had been built over the ruins of an ancient malt kiln, of which none of the occupants suspected the existence.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE NAPOLEON WHILE RIDING WITH THE CZAR OF RUSSIA.

PARIS, June 6—Evening.—Another attempt upon the life of the Emperor Louis Napoleon was made to-day, while he was returning from the Grand Review at Longchamps this afternoon, in honor of the Czar of Russia, who accompanied him. A shot was fired at the carriage by some person in the crowd. Fortunately, neither of the Emperors were injured. The incident created great excitement and confusion for some time, which, however, quieted when it was found the intended assassination had failed. The assassin has not yet been arrested, but cannot long escape.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Mail advices from Athens state the Cretan forces now hold all the passes. The army of Omar Pacha is so crippled that he could not undertake any serious movement without fresh reinforcements.

The Turkish fever was ravaging the Turkish army.

The Arcadian had accomplished successfully three seventy trips, and landed, besides a large quantity of ammunition, six hundred and fifty Maltotes. About sixteen thousand stand of arms of the latest pattern, and the more terrible of field artillery had reached Athens.

The Government was very actively preparing to send all available forces. Two naval officers of the highest rank in the Greek Navy have reached London, looking for iron clads. Additional troops are being sent to the frontiers of Thessally and Epirus, on account of the concentration of Turkish troops on the other side.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

The Removal of New Orleans Officials —General Sheridan's Reasons Therefor—Registration Nearly Completed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Tribune's special says: General Sheridan having been asked for his reasons for his removals, this day forwarded the following:

HEADQUARTERS FIFTH MILITARY DISTRICT, —General U. S. Grant, Commanding Armies of the United States, Washington, D. C.—General: On the 26th of March last I removed from office Judge E. Abell of the Criminal Court of New Orleans, and Wm. J. Herron, Attorney General of the State of Louisiana, and John F. Monroe, Mayor of the city of New Orleans.

These removals were made under the power granted me in what is usually termed the Military Bill, passed March 2nd, over the veto of the United States. I did not deem it necessary to give any reason for the removal of these men, especially after the investigation made by the Military Board on the massacre of July 30th, 1866, and the report of the Congressional Committee on the same subject; but as some inquiry has been made for the cause of removal, I would respectfully state as follows:

The Court over which Judge Abell presided is the only Criminal Court in the city of New Orleans, and for a period of at least nine months previous to July 30, he had been educating a large portion of the community to the perpetration of this crime by almost promising immunity to any Court against the offenders, in case such an event occurred. The records of this Court will show that he fulfilled his promise, as not one of the guilty ones has been prosecuted.

In reference to Andrew I. Herron, Attorney General of the State of Louisiana, I considered it his duty to indict these men before the Criminal Court. This he failed to do, but went so far as to attempt to impose on the good sense of the whole nation, by indicting the victims of the riot instead of the rioters—in other words, making the innocent guilty and the guilty innocent. He was, therefore, an abettor of the foul crime committed by Judge Abell in bringing on the massacre of July 30th.

Mayor Monroe controlled the element engaged in this riot, and when backed by an Attorney General who would not prosecute the guilty, and a Judge who advised the Grand Jury to find the innocent guilty and let the murderers go free, felt secure in engaging his police force in the riot and massacre.

With those three men exercising a large influence on the worst elements of this city, giving to these elements an immunity for riot and bloodshed, the General in Chief will see how insecure I felt in letting them occupy their positions in the troubles which might occur during the registration and voting in the reorganization. I am General, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

P. H. SHERIDAN, Maj. Gen'l, U. S. A.

General Sheridan also telegraphed General Grant that the registry returns from most of the counties of the State had been received. Also, the reports of the officers which supervised them, and I can report to you the greatest success, and that the feeling is existing among the people.

The New York Herald's Washington special says: General Sheridan is believed to be guilty of disobedience of orders in removing Governor Wells, after having received the telegram from Secretary Stanton directing him to suspend all further action in the case of the Levee Commissioners, and it is reported this evening that General Grant and Mr. Stanton had a conference to-day on this question, at which General Grant favored the administration of a reprimand to General Sheridan, cautioning him to greater prudence in the future, instead of ordering him to be removed.

The New York Times' special says: All the military men in Washington, who know the situation of affairs in New Orleans, approve Sheridan's course.

Atlantic Steamship Company—Action to Annul the Charter.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Attorney General Martindale has instituted an action in nature of the people of the State of New York against the Atlantic Mail Steamship Company, to dissolve the company and annul its charter for alleged exceeding and misusing the corporate authority. A receiver of the property of the company is demanded by the Attorney General, and an injunction has been issued by the Supreme Court enjoining its directors from disposing of the assets of the company during the progress of the suit.

THINGS IN WASHINGTON COUNTY.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 4, 1867.

Our goodly town is becoming somewhat famous in these latter days. The public prints find occasion to notice us very frequently. We may be allowed to speak a little of ourselves.

FOGLER'S CONFESSION.

This has been the theme of conversation ever since it was published. A bold, reckless and persistent attempt is being made by certain parties to throw discredit on the confession. It avails nothing, save to deepen the conviction, almost universal, that the confession is true beyond the shadow of a doubt. It would have been wise in the parties to whom we refer to have kept silent.

THE LENOX CASE.

This ended well. The verdict of the jury and the sentence of the Court gives general satisfaction. Eight years service in the penitentiary is none too heavy a penalty for the crime that had been committed.

OUR COURT.

Of this we feel, we think, justly proud. It administers justice without fear or favor, and seems determined to vindicate the majesty of the law. Crime of every kind must soon quail before it.

The other day some thirty applications were made from various parts of the county for license to sell liquors. Not one was granted. Every good citizen rejoices. Such a Court honors itself, and is a credit to any county.

LIKELY TO LIVE.

The lad, the shooting of whom the other night was such a sad affair. The bullet, it is supposed, lodged in his lung or passed through it. His symptoms to-day are favorable. The physicians entertain hopes of his recovery.

THE NEW JAIL.

The workmen are at it. When completed it will be well adapted for the purposes for which such a building is intended. Sad purposes, however.

OUR COAL SHAFT.

It is now down some three hundred feet, but the coal is not yet reached. The Company are sanguine of success, and our people are glad of it. The finding of coal will be a great blessing to many.

THE CROPS.

An excursion through a good portion of this county satisfies us that the promise of abundance is most cheering. The wheat fields are all that could be desired. The meadows also look well. In many instances the oats. All kinds of fruit give evidence of more than an ordinary yield. The corn is unusually backward. In many instances the wet, cold weather has necessitated replanting.

THE GAZETTE.

We cannot drop the pen without sending you words of congratulation and cheer. Your paper, always good, is now better than ever. Fearless and deep, and withal as think, prudently, wisely and ably conducted. It deserves a very wide circulation.

NATIONAL TELEGRAPH LAW.

Meeting of the Directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company—Resolutions Denouncing the Law Adopted by Congress.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company, at a meeting held on the 5th, unanimously resolved to accept the provisions of the National Telegraph Law, passed by Congress, and directed that the seal of the Company be affixed with the Postmaster General immediately. By this action the Government will acquire the right to purchase the Company's lines whenever it may be desired, to be determined by Commissioners to be chosen, two by the Company, two by the United States, and two by the Supreme Court. Whenever Congress shall decide to make the telegraph a part of the postal system, the Government can acquire the lines, build and maintain lines along all the railroads and highways in the United States which have been or shall hereafter be established, and own and operate all public lines, without chance. It has been claimed that the law above referred to gave these important privileges to the Company. This is a mistake. Its provisions are general, and the Western Union Telegraph Company owns or controls nearly all the lines in the country. Whatever value the grant may have, it is conferred on the Company alone. This action cannot fail to exert an important and beneficial influence on the interests of the Telegraph Company. In the future it will be easier for Congress to take the entire or even partial control of the Telegraph, if it should not be deemed wise to purchase or arrange for the use of the lines and property of this Company, which it is claimed it would not be difficult to do, at a much larger sum than is represented by the present price of the stock.

FROM CLEVELAND, O.

Merchants' Union Express Company Meeting—Ohio State Episcopal Convention.

CLEVELAND, June 6.—A joint meeting of the Executive Committee and the Trustees of the Merchants' Union Express Company is being held at the Weddell House. There is a very full attendance. A thorough examination is being made of the condition of the Company, and the best of feeling prevails. No action will doubtless be taken upon many matters connected with the welfare of the Company, and efficient measures adopted for the prosecution of its business. The Executive Committee have made full reports, which are being considered by the Trustees this evening.

The Ohio Episcopal Convention is holding its second day's session. The chief feature of interest was a letter from Rev. M. Bedell, Assistant Bishop of the Diocese of Ohio, now in Rome, taking strong low Church ground, characterizing ritualism as contrary to the spirit of the prayer book, and recommending a strict adherence to the forms of worship prescribed therein. The letter was a powerful one, and was well received by the Convention.

LATER.—Arrangements have been definitely settled by the Executive Committee and Trustees of the Merchant's Union Express Company to start the People's Dispatch on the 15th instant. This will connect Boston and New York with all the Western cities.

FROM GEORGIA.

Conservative Union Party Organization Still Further Pronounced—The Movement Pronounced Ill-Timed and Injudicious—Wheat Harvest Commenced—Supreme Court Judge Dead.

AUGUSTA, GA., June 6.—A meeting of citizens of Fulton and Dekalb counties was held at Atlanta to form a Conservative Union Party. A preamble and resolutions were adopted, denouncing the reconstruction bill as unjust and conferring military rule to organizing under its provisions. The press at Atlanta have denounced it as premature and pronounce it ill-timed and injudicious.

The feeling throughout Georgia is to submit and organize under the military bill. The people are sick and tired of uncertainty and will conform to the requirements of the law. The opposition is good faith. The opposition will be inconsiderable, as a great majority of the people are in favor of voting for a Convention.

Hon. Joseph Lumpkin, of the Supreme Court of Georgia, recently died at Athens.

The wheat harvest of this State has commenced and the yield promises to be very large. All the other crops are looking fine and promise to yield well.

THE PRESIDENTIAL TOUR.

Reception at Chapel Hill University, N. C.—The President and the Constitution.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., June 5.—The President and party arrived this afternoon, and were welcomed by Dr. Swayne, President of the University. President Johnson returned thanks for this manifestation of friendship. He trusted that one of the leading studies of the University would be the principles of the Constitution and free government. He loved his country and regarded the Constitution as the palladium of our safety and our liberties, and by it, in the future as in the past, he intended to stand. The principles of our government were, if properly understood, sufficiently expansive to embrace not only all the States of the Union, but the entire civilized world. In conclusion, the President encouraged the pupils of the institution, who were forbidden by the by-laws of usefulness, reminding them that the paths of honor were open to all. The President was frequently interrupted with applause. Messrs. Seward and Randall and General Sickles also spoke, and the ceremonies of the reception ended. The commencement exercises will take place to-morrow, (Thursday.)

The Senatorial Excursion Party.

JUNCTION CITY, KANSAS, June 6.—The excursion party left Lawrence at eleven o'clock yesterday morning, and visited places down and seeing all notable places; dined at Topeka, spent an hour or two at Fort Riley, and arrived here last evening, where they took supper and spent the night. A considerable number of prominent citizens of Kansas have joined us, including Gov. Crawford and some state officers, Gen. Deitzler, Col. Ross, Congressman Clark, and several Judges and others. The party will leave here this morning for the end of the track, and thence to Fort Harker.

A public meeting in honor of the excursionists was held at Lawrence night before last, at which several hundred citizens were present. Speeches were made by Gen. Schenck, of Indiana; Hubbard, of West Virginia; Vandyke, of New York; Henderson, of Pennsylvania, Newcomb, Brandon, of Missouri; Judge Smith, of Kansas, and others, after which a hop was given. Everything passed off delightfully. The weather is charming. No accident occurred.

MEMPHIS, June 6.—The National Typographical Union passed a resolution requesting every printer to set one thousand ems on the anniversary of Artemus Ward's death, for building a monument, and also another allowing the proprietors of newspapers who are practical printers, to become members. They go on an excursion on the Dan Able to-night.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Expedition to Russian America—Eighth Section Union Pacific Railroad—The Louisiana Governorship —Tennessee Military Outrages—New Ordinance Officer at Allegheny Arsenal—Republican Jollification.

WASHINGTON, June 5, 1867.

EXPEDITION TO RUSSIAN AMERICA—EXPLORATION OF THE COAST AND COUNTRY.

The revenue cutter Lincoln, stationed on the Pacific coast, is preparing for a cruise at San Francisco to Sitka, and along the shores of Russian America, under the direction of the Treasury Department. She goes for the purpose of looking after the interests of the service, in anticipation of the early transfer of the territory to the United States. The Russian Minister, Baron Stoeckel, is directed by telegraph from the Consul at San Francisco and Russian authorities at Sitka, that American goods might be landed at the latter port from American vessels, provided they came with manifests by a U. S. Collector of Customs and countersigned by a Russian Consul. It has also been promised that they should be landed under the personal supervision of an American agent. The Secretary of the Treasury has instructed the officers at San Francisco to this effect, and that is probable an officer has already proceeded to Sitka, to represent the Treasury for the present to protect commerce just sprung up. The Lincoln will take departure for the Coast Survey, prepared to make a general reconnoissance of the coast, and a particular survey, Captain Watson of the Cutter, is an experienced naturalist, and with Dr. Kellogg, surgeon of the vessel, will give special attention during the cruise to a wide range of scientific inquiry, suggested and guided by the Smithsonian Institute. These gentlemen are directed not only to acquire all possible information by the exploration of the climate, productions and resources of all kinds, but to procure specimens to be carefully preserved and labelled, besides a large quantity of ammunition, six hundred and fifty Maltotes. About sixteen thousand stand of arms of the latest pattern, and the more terrible of field artillery had reached Athens.

The Government was very actively preparing to send all available forces. Two naval officers of the highest rank in the Greek Navy have reached London, looking for iron clads. Additional troops are being sent to the frontiers of Thessally and Epirus, on account of the concentration of Turkish troops on the other side.

RAILROAD MEETINGS.

Annual Election for Directors of the Chicago and North-western Railroad Company—Line Management Sustained.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company, for the election of Directors for the ensuing year, took place at the office of the Company in this city to-day. About fifty persons were in attendance, representing two hundred and fifty thousand shares of stock.

The President on taking the chair, made a brief speech, giving the reasons for the course pursued by the present management. During the year seventy-seven locomotives, one thousand nine hundred freight cars, and one passenger car had been added to the equipments of the road, at an expense of four and a half millions of dollars. Two millions have been expended in building side tracks. He was convinced that the road had been honestly managed, and with as great ability as any other road in the country.

The ticket supported by the old management received two hundred and twenty-three thousand six hundred votes, being a majority one hundred and twenty-four thousand. On counting the votes it was found that one hundred and twenty-two votes were by shares transferred within the last thirty days, and under the charter could not be allowed. About ninety thousand votes were for the opposition, and ten thousand for the regular ticket. Throwing these out the vote stood: regular ticket, two hundred and three thousand; opposition, thirty-four thousand four hundred and ten.

A resolution approving the course of the present management during the past year was adopted. The meeting was orderly, and considerable enthusiasm was manifested at the result.

Railroad Connections with the New England States—All Rail Route From Portland to the West.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OSWEGO, N. Y., June 6.—A delegation of leading New England men, interested in the railroad from Portland to Montreal, connecting with the Vermont Central and Ogdensburg Railroad, arrived here to-day to ascertain what connections can be made from here on to Ogdensburg to bridge over the water connections to the West. A meeting was held at the Board of Trade Rooms, at the project fully discussed. It is proposed to make such connections as will form an all-rail route from Portland to the West. The delegation, after being entertained by the Common Council and Board of Trade, left on their return.

Railroad Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PETERSBURG, June 6.—A Convention of all the important Railroad Companies in Virginia and North Carolina, met to-day to discuss a schedule for the passage of freight to New York and New Orleans. The session will be continued two days longer.

HOMOPATHIC INSTITUTE—FEMALE PHYSICIANS IGNORED.

The American Institute of Homopathy today, by a vote of fifty-six against sixty-three, declined to admit female physicians to membership.

THE ESTATE OF GEN. BUTLER'S BROTHER.

The Butler estate was before the Superior Court to-day, on an appeal by General Butler from an order of the Surrogate directing the filing of an inventory. Mr. Butler being, when he died, a resident of this city, his will was proved by his brother, B. F. Butler, before the Surrogate. Subsequently, when required to file an inventory, he filed one containing a list of his property in this State, amounting to $6,330. This the Surrogate did not regard sufficient, but directed a further inventory of assets being lodged in the estate situated in Massachusetts, Louisiana and California. From this order General Butler appeals. The appeal was argued and the decision reserved.

THE TURF.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Patterson spring meeting terminated to-day. The hurdle race was the most brilliant, of time, ever witnessed in the east. It was won by Black Bird after a splendid race with Zig Zag, "Citadel," "General Williams," "Jack Armstrong" and "Bereegn,"—time 4:05; 3:14. Monday won the second stakes—two miles, beating "Virgil,"—time 3:15. "Deliverance" won the three mile heat race, beating "Dazzle," in 6:25; 5:43. "Don" won the Consolation purse—mile and a quarter—beating "Reporter" and "Mittie," in 2:22½.

Suits Against Judge Busteed.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Herald's Montgomery, Alabama, special, says: Three cases have been brought in the Circuit Court of Montgomery county, Alabama, against Judge Busteed, for alleged conversion of moneys, conspiring to defraud the plaintiffs, and corrupt, abuse and usurpation of the office of Judge.

UNITED STATES COURT IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Address of Chief Justice Chase on the Opening of Court at Raleigh.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RALEIGH, June 6.—At the opening of the United States Circuit Court this morning, in the State Senate Chamber, a large number of distinguished members were present.

Before proceeding to business, Chief Justice Chase made the following remarks to practitioners:

Gentlemen of the Bar:—Before proceeding to regular business, I think it proper to address a few observations to you. For more than four years the Courts of the Union were excluded from North Carolina by the rebellion. When active hostilities closed, in 1865, the National military authority took the place of ordinary civil jurisdiction, or controlled its exercise. All the Courts, State and National, were subordinated to military supremacy, and acted, when they acted, under all such limitations and in such cases as the Commanding Generals, under the direction of the President, thought fit to prescribe. Their process might be disregarded and their judgments and decrees set aside by a military order. Under these circumstances, the Justices of the Supreme Court directed by the circuits which included the insurgent states, abstained from joining the District Judges in holding Circuit Courts. Their attendance was unnecessary for the District Judges were fully authorized by law to hold Circuit Courts without the Justice of the Supreme Court, and to exercise complete jurisdiction in the trial of all criminal and almost all civil cases. And

The Pittsburgh Gazette

FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1867.

FROM ALL PARTS of the country the reports respecting the weather and the crops are most favorable. Never before was there so great a breadth of winter grain on the ground. The condition of it is promising. In spots it may be slightly damaged, as is always the case; but, on the whole, it is in excellent order. The proportion of spring grain is not materially less, and it is doing finely. Corn is behind, but there is time enough for that crop yet, provided frosts do not come in the autumn earlier than common. Fruit, also, bids fair to be unusually abundant. In spots some damage has been experienced, but, on the whole, there will be a super-abundance.

Flour and all the cereals are receding rapidly. Speculators have been caught and are suffering badly, whereat everybody else is rejoiced. The pretense of a short supply, which was adroitly manipulated, and widely circulated, was false, as the parties who manufactured it well knew. If they have now been caught in their own snare, and been badly pinched, the retribution is just, and we trust it may prove salutary. As we said last fall, when the starvation cry was raised, this country is altogether too extensive, and the grain districts too broad and fertile, to admit of a general failure, and partial failures, even in many localities, count for nothing in the aggregate result.

Three months more and the country will have cheap bread, and enough of it. This will be a great relief to the populations of crowded towns, and particularly to those most important and useful classes who subsist upon the wages of labor.

WHAT IS SAID OF THE GAZETTE.

[From the Brownsville Clipper.]

THE "OLD GAZETTE."—The old Pittsburgh GAZETTE, whose years of continued existence, now number more than three-quarters of a century, having been established in 1786, has just been again enlarged, being the second time, within a year, owing to its increased advertising patronage, and which has been justified also, by a large increase of its subscription list, induced by the new life, vigor, interest and ability thrown into it by its present talented and enterprising editors and proprietors, Messrs. Penniman, Reed & Co., who have had its management but a single year. The GAZETTE in its present form is among the largest daily papers in Pennsylvania, and the capacity of its editors to make it a most interesting, readable, and valuable sheet, seems to have kept full pace with its expanding dimensions during the brief space it has been under their control.

We could write a history of the life and adventures, services and vicissitudes of the "Old Pittsburgh GAZETTE," but time and space forbid, and we close our notice of this late additional enterprise of its energetic proprietors, by wishing them all the success, in both honor and profit which, though not always realized, are ever due to personal energy, to intellectual ability, and in all things, an unconquerable desire to do right, regardless of consequences.

[From the Lancaster Examiner.]

THE Pittsburgh GAZETTE on Monday appeared in a new dress and considerably enlarged, and is now the largest daily paper published in Western Pennsylvania. While it is the largest it is also one of the best and most reliable. Its market reports are always full and complete, while its summary of current news is all that could be desired. The editorial department, under the management of Mr. Penniman, is ably conducted. He and his associate, Mr. Houston, are not only brilliant, but industrious writers, and may be reckoned among the foremost Republican editors of the day. The GAZETTE is ultra in its advocacy of the cardinal doctrines of the Republican party, but at the same time is severely just on members of the party who would retard its triumphant progress in attempts to enrich and aggrandize themselves. In a word, it is an independent paper, laboring for the public good irrespective of personal considerations or regard for personal friends. In this consists the secret of its great success.

[From the Valley Spirit.]

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.—This Journal has again been enlarged, and is now one of the largest in the State, and is the cheapest. It is the most ably edited of any paper west of Philadelphia, and its unwavering advocacy of principles deemed correct, makes it a favorite among men of stability of character and honesty of convictions. It is one of the best exponents of Republican principles in the country. While it is free from the wild and senseless ravings which disgrace many sheets that claim to be pre-eminently radical, it is a bold and consistent advocate of Manhood Suffrage, Equality before the Law, Freedom of Speech, and those other great principles which are the life and blood of the Republican party. It is a friend to the black man, not because he is black, but because in his oppression it sees a violation of the rights of man. It is Republican in politics, not because it is popular, but from principle, as we have a right to infer from the decided course it took at the time President Johnson began to manifest his apostacy to the party that elected him. Because of this noble stand, the GAZETTE lost all its Government printing; but an appreciative public have bestowed upon it an increased patronage that many times compensates for its loss.

[From the Monongahela Republican.]

THE Pittsburgh GAZETTE came to hand on Monday last considerably enlarged in size, so that it now equals in dimensions the largest dailies in the State. It is just one year since the present proprietors took charge of the Old GAZETTE, under what was thought by many to be very discouraging auspices, but since assuming the management of the paper, its patronage has steadily increased, and now at the end of twelve months they find themselves compelled to a second enlargement, in order to give the required amount of reading matter, and at the same time accommodate those who wish to use it as an advertising medium. We take pleasure in noticing this evidence of its prosperity.

The GAZETTE is for sale in Monongahela city by Amos Crail, the agent, and we cordially commend those who have no daily paper to try this one. Its locals are full, its news columns ably edited, and it can always be "found when wanted" on the side of Republicanism. Its recent enlargement meets our approval, on the general principle that there cannot be too much of a good thing.

[From the Somerset Herald.]

The Pittsburgh GAZETTE comes to us greatly enlarged and improved, and is now the largest daily in the State, as well as one of the cheapest. The GAZETTE was the first paper published west of the Allegheny mountains and was established by the grandfather of the writer of this notice, when Pittsburgh was a mere village. It has steadily grown with the growth of the city, and we trust has many years of usefulness before it. As a sterling exponent of Republican principles it is not excelled by any Journal in the Commonwealth, while its well filled columns prove conclusively that the business community fully appreciate it as an advertising medium.

[From the Mercer Dispatch.]

THE Pittsburgh GAZETTE comes to us this week enlarged and improved in appearance and matter. It is one of the ablest of our cotemporaries, and steadfast to its convictions. It is a source of remark and congratulation that all over the State those journals distinguished for their unswerving loyalty and devotion to the true interests of the country are steadily gaining ground and prospering. Those who stand by the interests of the people, the people will in turn stand by and support them.

[From the Steubenville (O.) Herald.]

The Pittsburgh GAZETTE of the 27th inst., appears in an enlarged and improved form, and gives other evidences of thrift and improvement. In size, quality and quantity of matter, the GAZETTE ranks among the first newspapers of the country. As the consistent and able advocate of sound political sentiment, worthy of the confidence and patronage of the friends of freedom, it has no superior in the city of Pittsburgh. The commercial and political departments of the GAZETTE are alike meritorious, and the paper as a whole, commends itself to the confidence and patronage of the people.

[From the Reading Dispatch.]

THE Pittsburgh GAZETTE came to us last evening in a greatly enlarged and much improved form. This is the second enlargement of that stable old sheet within the last six months, and each time the editors, Messrs. Penniman, Reed & Co., have assured their readers of a sure sign of prosperity. One of the oldest establishments in the United States, dating back to 1786, and is a sound, reliable, Radical Union paper, wielding more influence in Western Pennsylvania than any other paper published in that section of the State. If any of our people wish a paper from the "smoky city," they should by all means subscribe for the GAZETTE, as it is, without exception, the best paper west of the Alleghenys.

[From the Washington (D. C.) Chronicle.]

The Pittsburgh Gazette of Monday comes to us much enlarged in size and greatly improved in appearance. It is printed on good white paper with clear type, and is now the largest daily newspaper in western Pennsylvania. The Gazette is the earnest exponent of the great principles of the Republican party. It is conducted with great ability and enterprise, and we are pleased to notice its deserved success. Unlike some of its cotemporaries in the "smoky city" it studiously avoids the violent personalities and gross breaches of professional courtesy which have done so much to disgrace the journalism of the day.

[From the Harrisburg Telegraph.]

THE Pittsburgh Gazette has been greatly enlarged and attractively improved mechanically, thus giving it that typographical appearance which the superior ability with which it is conducted needed. Messrs. Penniman, Reed & Co. assumed control of the establishment one year ago, and from what seemed to be a decaying condition, have rejuvinated, invigorated and popularized the Gazette. We may be mistaken, but we think the Gazette is the oldest daily newspaper in the State. It is certainly one of the ablest, and is daily doing immense service in behalf of the interests of the State, and the welfare of the nation and the rights of man.

[From the Greensburg Herald.]

PITTSBURGH DAILY GAZETTE.—This old pioneer sheet of newspaperism in the West is fully up to the times. Under the unexampled prosperity which it has attained, during the past year, and to meet the wants of a reading public, its proprietors—Penniman, Reed & Co.—have again enlarged its dimensions by the addition of some three inches to the length of the sheet—as it is each page. It is now equal in size to any daily paper in the country. We are glad to chronicle this evidence of its prosperity, as well as to endorse its political soundness and efficiency.

[From the Erie Dispatch.]

The Pittsburgh GAZETTE comes to us enlarged, though retaining the folio form. The GAZETTE has been in the hands of its present proprietors, Messrs. Penniman, Reed & Co., a little more than a year, in which time no pains have been spared to make it a model journal. With the enlargement, they have added to their facilities for procuring news and interesting matter, and will be enabled to add to the already fine reputation of the GAZETTE.

[From the Ebensburg Alleghenian.]

ON last Monday, the commencement of the second year of the paper under its present management, the Pittsburgh GAZETTE was considerably enlarged and improved. It is now equal in size to any paper published in Pennsylvania, and is supassed by but few in the Union, while as a vehicle of news and general information it takes the foremost rank. It is so eminently sound and reliable in politics that we wish it had one thousand subscribers in this neighborhood.

[From the Pittsburgh Chronicle.]

ENLARGED.—Our vigorous neighbors of the GAZETTE have again found it necessary to enlarge their borders. The "Oldest Daily" came to us this morning very materialy increased in size. This enlargement takes place on the anniversary of the day when the present proprietors assumed control of the paper. We are heartily and cordially glad to see this proof of our neighbors' prosperity. May it keep doing so.

[From the Butler American.]

THE Pittsburgh GAZETTE has again been enlarged. This is the second enlargement during the last year. This of itself is a strong argument in its favor. It is now one of the largest daily and weekly papers in the State. It is also one of the cheapest in Western Pennsylvania. Its circulation has been largely increased in the last year. We congratulate friend Reed and his associates for the energy they have evinced in the management of their paper, and the success which has attended the same.

[From the Wooster (O.) Republican.]

THE Daily Pittsburgh Gazette has recently been much enlarged and otherwise improved, and made truly a first class paper. The Gazette is now equal in size to any daily newspaper published in Pennsylvania; is fully as large as the largest at Cincinnati and Chicago, and is only surpassed by one at St. Louis. Still the price is not increased.

[From the Huntingdon Journal.]

The Pittsburgh GAZETTE has been enlarged and improved, and is now one of the best papers in the State. The editorial department evinces ability of a high order, while its news columns are always up to time, and take it all in all, is one of the liveliest papers we know of.

[From the Philadelphia Press.]

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.—This paper comes to us this week enlarged and improved in appearance and matter. It is one of the ablest of our contemporaries, and steadfast to its convictions. It is a source of remark and congratulation that all over the State those journals distinguished for their unswerving loyalty and devotion to the true interests of the country are steadily gaining ground and prospering. Those who stand by the interests of the people, the people will in turn stand by and support.

[From the Waynesburg Republican.]

On last Monday the Pittsburgh GAZETTE actually came to us with a broad grin on its face; this may seem strange, too, when we tell that it is longer than it ever was. The GAZETTE is the largest and cheapest journal in Western Pennsylvania, complete in all its departments, and what is better, radically right in politics. It has completed its first year under the management of the present proprietors, Penniman, Reed & Co., and if it continues in success as heretofore must outstrip all competitors in the journalistic race. It now contains thirty-six columns of good reading and costs considerable less than any daily or weekly in the city. Every one of our farmers should send for the GAZETTE.

[From the Chambersburg Repository.]

The Pittsburgh GAZETTE gives evidence of great prosperity. It has recently been enlarged and otherwise improved. It is an ably conducted journal and merits the increasing patronage it seems to enjoy.

[From the Indiana Messenger.]

A GOOD PAPER.—The Pittsburgh Daily Gazette came to us on Monday enlarged and much improved in its general appearance. The Gazette is now the largest paper and, by many years, the oldest in Pittsburgh. We have always considered it one of the most reliable papers published in the "Smoky City," and we are glad to note that it is properly appreciated by the public. It is thoroughly Republican in its tone and contains many powerful argumentative editorials on the great questions of the day, while as a live news paper it cannot be excelled. Those of our readers who may desire to procure a first class paper, should not fail to subscribe for the Gazette. The terms are much lower than any other paper of the same size in the State.

[From the Johnstown Democrat.]

The Pittsburgh GAZETTE has again been enlarged. It now claims to be the largest and cheapest daily newspaper in Pennsylvania. It is a well conducted paper, and we wish it success, excepting its politics, which we do not admire.

[From the Clarion Banner.]

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.—This old established newspaper has been greatly enlarged and improved, and under the management of Messrs. Penniman, Reed & Co., is one of the best papers in the State. It has always been the bold, unswerving champion of the right, and as such richly merits the support of the masses. It is ably conducted in all its departments, and gives evidence of increased vigor and usefulness. Its circulation has largely increased, and the old Gazette, after almost a century's existence, takes lead of its cotemporaries. Those of our readers desiring a city daily cannot do better than send for it.

[From the Clearfield Journal.]

The Pittsburgh Gazette on Monday, May 27th, made its advention in a greatly enlarged form, and much improved in appearance. In size, the Gazette is now equal to any other paper published in the State, thus enabling its publishers to give a much larger amount of reading matter than heretofore. It always has been a firm and undeviating advocate of the principles of the Republican party, and will continue to support its doctrines and measures of public policy, which are founded on truth and justice and opposed to all species of policical error and political heresy. The Gazette merits, and will receive the liberal support of the friends of the Union.

[From the Lancaster Express.]

THE Pittsburgh Gazette came to us yesterday greatly enlarged, and is now one of the largest as well as one of the ablest papers in the State. The present publishers, Messrs. Penniman, Reed & Co., assumed control of the establishment just one year ago, when it seemed to be in a languishing condition. Through the energy of the new firm, however, the paper now occupies a front rank, and this is the second time they have been compelled to enlarge since in their hands. The Gazette, of course, like all flourishing newspapers, is soundly Republican, and is doing yeoman's service in the good cause west of the Alleghenies.

[From the Albany (N. Y.) Evening Journal.]

THE Pittsburgh Gazette was materially enlarged on Monday, the first anniversary of its present proprietors. The Gazette thus becomes the largest and cheapest daily published in Pennsylvania, as it is one of the very best. Its prosperity during the year of its new management has been very great—it having enlarged in six months, and now again at the expiration of the second six months. It deserves its success. It is one of the most valued of our exchanges, and exerts a controlling influence in the western part of Pennsylvania.

[From the Washinton Reporter.]

THE Pittsburgh Gazette came to hand on Monday last considerably enlarged in size, so that it now equals in dimensions the largest dailies in the State. It is just one year since the present proprietors took charge of the old Gazette, under what was thought by many to be very discouraging auspices, but since assuming the management of the paper, its patronage has steadily increased, and now at the end of twelve months, they find themselves compelled to a second enlargement, in order to give the required amount of reading matter, and at the same time accommodate those who wish to use it as an advertising medium. We take pleasure in noticing this evidence of its prosperity.

[From the Meadville Republican.]

The Pittsburgh Gazette has been enlarged and materially improved. Always an ably conducted journal, comparing with any in the State, it has now increased facilities for printing, with accomplished and experienced writers upon its editorial staff, that will give to it that pre-eminent character in the State which it has justly earned.

[From the Johnstown Tribune.]

THE Pittsburgh Gazette has again been enlarged. The Gazette, under its present management, has become one of the first journals of the country. It is well printed, enterprising in the way of news and ably edited. It is also a remarkably cheap paper.

[From the Indiana American.]

WE observe that the Pittsburgh Daily Gazette has been greatly enlarged and improved within the past fortnight. It is a sterling Republican journal, and one of the oldest papers in the State, and it is well printed. It is edited with ability, and its labors seem to be appreciated by the public.

[From the Philadelphia Bulletin.]

THE Pittsburgh GAZETTE, one of the ablest Republican journals in the State, celebrated its first anniversary under its present management, yesterday. The GAZETTE has been greatly enlarged, and is in the full tide of success. We sincerely wish it the prosperity in the future which, from its high character as a first rate daily, it so richly deserves.

[From the Altoona Tribune.]

The Pittsburgh Gazette, one of the oldest and most substantial of the Pittsburgh dailies, has been enlarged and materially improved. It is now the largest and at the same time the cheapest daily paper published in Pittsburgh. In all respects it is a live, first class daily paper.

[From the Canton (O.) Republican.]

The Pittsburgh Gazette has been much enlarged. It is one of the most sterling, reliable papers in the West, and is much the cheapest for its size.

[From the Cleveland (O.) Herald.]

The Pittsburgh Gazette has been enlarged, and is now a large, handsome and enterprising sheet.

REMEMBER

That Sickness at the Stomach, Pain between the Shoulders and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver Complaint, are, one and all, promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of that famous preparation,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS,

Which is at once the best of correctives, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver Disease or Bilious Remittent Fever. No words can do justice to its MARVELOUS PROPERTIES.

It stands pre-eminent among the health restoring preparations of the age, and is every year adding to its fame, not only in this country, but throughout the civilized world.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Dwelt, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, exabling them to regain their set tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or more, and cured their inveterate radical cases of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, I immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnow, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in the impovrishes, in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5. COMMON PLEAS.

Jury trials adjourned till first Monday in September.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

This Court met Thursday at ten o'clock, Hon. Thomas Mellon on the bench, Col. L. S. Duff, District Attorney.

CONVICTED AND SENTENCED.

Joseph Moses, aged about thirty-five years, a rolling mill hand, was arraigned on two indictments, charging him with stealing two silver watches, the property of James Jones and David Davis, Watchmen, from a boarding house in South Pittsburgh. The state of facts in each case were the same, and being submitted to a jury, a verdict of guilty was returned on both indictments. The Court sentenced the prisoner to four months imprisonment in the county jail. It seems that he had been "on a drunk" for some time prior to committing the larceny, and that he was in a state of mind border. ing on insanity. It was this circumstance, together with the fact of his previous good character, that induced the Court to impose a light sentence.

AN ASSAULT AND BATTERY CASE.

The next case taken up, at about eleven o'clock, was that of the Commonwealth vs. Andrew Jackson Brown, indictment aggravated assault and battery, Joseph Penrod prosecutor. The parties are coal miners, a "grudge" existed between them, and on an evening in the early part of April, at Wall's Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, they had a difficulty, both getting off the Accommodation train at that point. Quite a number of witnesses were examined, and a great deal more time consumed than the Court usually allows in such cases. Mr. Penrod, it seems, was "boss" at the coal works, and had discharged Brown, who was employed as a "digger" by the latter. Brown was the first assailant, but Penrod succeeded in getting the better of him, and went away. Soon after, and whilst Penrod was retreating, Brown renewed the quarrel and committed the assault which was the subject of indictment. The jury found a verdict of "guilty of simple assault and battery." The defendant was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and to undergo an imprisonment of thirty days in the county jail. In a surety case he was directed to pay the costs and to give bonds to keep the peace for one year towards Mr. Penrod and all other people.

A DOMESTIC PICTURE.

Lewis Johnston appeared as complainant against his wife and daughter in a surety case. He stated that he resided in Penn township, but had been away from his family for about ten months. A short time since he went to the house occupied by his wife, to keep her during a meal bill, for which he had been sued. His reception was by no means of a kindly nature. The wife, becoming excited, ordered him in unmeasured terms, and went to the extent of threatening to "split him, poison him, or cause it to be done." The daughter, Rachel, also became engaged and made use of very violent in her speech. Drinking whisky, said Mr. Johnston, was the cause of his separating from his family, and he admitted indulging himself in a fair share of the ardent. A younger daughter was called as a witness, and testified that the "fuss" was caused by her father saying that he would take away the three smaller children. He was told that if he attempted to take them, he might as well make his will," as he would not take away with them alive. Her mother, said the daughter, made her living by keeping a boarding-house. She had twelve children, ten of whom were living, six being provided for at home. The Court asked Johnston if he was not afraid of the wife and daughter. He could not say that he was, exactly, but did not consider it safe to be among "such cattle" and was then asked as to how his wife made a living, when he did not provide for her, said "there were more ways than one for women to make a living." Further testimony was offered in the case, by which it appeared that as the battle of words progressed a dispute arose as to the ownership or parentage of the children. It was a painful exhibition of domestic trouble. Mrs. Johnston was allowed to make a statement, in the course of which she stated that when she heard the "old man" was coming to the house, she knew he was in liquor, "else he would not have come. Also, that the old man" was very angry, had a high temper, called her "an old —" her house "an old calaboose," and said he would break it up. When he told a constable, who came with him, to put handcuffs on his daughter Rachel, she (the daughter) told the constable that if he attempted to take her without a warrant she would "split his skull open with a hatchet." The Court thought the threat made was a "conditional one," If Johnston wanted to take the children, he should go about it in a right way, by showing that he was better able to take care of them. If Johnston's wife was ordered to pay the costs, and his wife and daughter required to enter into their own recognizances in the sum of $200 to keep the peace.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Frank J. Ray was indicted for this offense, on oath of Mrs. Crosland. The prosecutrix testified that she resided on Two Mile Run, and that on the 2d of April last, while crossing the defendant's field, he attacked and severely beat her, injuring her to such an extent that in two or three days after her child was prematurely born. Had blood for some time existed between the families, and the occurrence seems to have been the culmination of a series of squabbles about trifling matters. The prosecutrix was corroborated in the statement that Ray had knocked her down, and it appeared that he had endeavored to make his wife attack Mrs. Crosland, and for refusing struck and kicked her, after which he accosted Mrs. Crosland and committed the violence, the provocation for this being the fact of Mrs. C. crossing over his lot instead of going by the road, he had previously forbidden her to cross his lot. The case was not concluded at adjournment.

Common Pleas Court.

Before Hon. Edwin H. Stowe.

Lashell & Co. vs. Henry Robinson, et al. Before reported. Verdict for the plaintiff for the sum of $256.75, in case the Court should be of the opinion that the damages should be assessed as of the places where the purchases were sold, deducting what was received for them; but in case the Court should be of opinion that damages should be the amount paid for the articles, deducting what was received for them, then the jury would find the sum of $247.50

McKeever & Mcgratty vs. Stewart Hamilton. Verdict for plaintiff for $225.

Before Hon. H. W. Williams.

Scoville M. Buckingham vs. Benj. S. Musgrave. Verdict for plaintiff for $234.

An Old Offender Caught.

Officer D. McMullen made three informations before Mayor McCarthy, against John Walls, charging him with keeping a disorderly house, selling liquor without license, and selling liquor on Sunday. A warrant was issued, and "Johny" was arrested, had a hearing yesterday, and was held to answer at Court, in the sum of $300. In default of five hundred dollars bail in the first charge and three hundred in each of the others, he was committed to jail. He is an old offender, and has been annoying the community for some time past, but will not likely trouble them again for a few days. He has been running an establishment of his own, on an old barge at the foot of O'Hara street, in the Allegheny river, where he had been doing a kind of variety business, dealing in fighting dogs, fast women, bad whisky, etc. His stock, or what remained of it at the time of his arrest, has been confiscated.

Assaulted an Officer.

Officer Hiram Woods, of the night watch, Allegheny City, made information, on Wednesday morning, before Mayor Morrison, against John Treadwhach, charging him with assaulting an officer. The defendant was on a "spree," in the Third ward, Allegheny, Tuesday night, and was acting in a very disorderly manner, "making night hideous with his unearthly yells," when officer Woods found him, and took him in charge. But, Treadelbach, not being in a humor to be "trifled" with in that way, refused to go, and when the officer laid hands on him, drew his knife and making a cut at Woods inflicted a severe wound on the left wrist. He was taken to the "tombs," and lodged there for the night, and the next day after a hearing was held in five hundred dollars to answer at Court.

Sale of St. Clair Street Property.—As an evidence of the very rapid advance in the price of real estate in Pittsburgh, we mention the sale of a lot on St. Clair street, eighteen feet front by one hundred and ten feet deep, with a three story brick building thereon, known as belonging to the estate of W. P. Baum, dec'd, for the sum of seventeen thousand and fifty dollars. The lot was disposed of at Orphans' Court sale, on Wednesday. An adjoining lot, of the same size, was sold six years ago for $5,500.

Death of N. Buckmaster, Esq.—Bar Meeting.

At a meeting of members of the bar, in the District Court Room, yesterday forenoon, Thomas M. Marshall in the chair, and Alfred Kerr and J. N. McCleery, secretaries, the following resolutions, reported by a committee, consisting of C. W. McHenry, S. H. Geyer and John McClaren, were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has seemed pleasing to Almighty God in His wise Providence to remove from among us our late associate and brother of the Bar, N. Buckmaster, therefore

Resolved, That we will ever cherish the recollections of the many virtues that adorned his association with us, his unflinching devotion to the cause of his country in her hour of peril, the geniality that ever invited our familiar intercourse, the love he bore toward his profession, his contempt for the accidents of life, and his reverence for genuine merit.

Resolved, That we tender our sincere and heartfelt sympathy to his surviving relatives and friends in this their bereavement. That whilst they mourn the loss of a father and kinsman, we deeply deplore the departure of one who was so endeared to us by many pleasing reminiscences—by his generous impulses, his appreciation of noble actions, and his quick sympathy with misfortune.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family of our deceased friend, and that the proceedings of this meeting be recorded in the minutes of our Courts, and published in the city press.

Pending the adoption, remarks eulogistic of the character of the deceased, were made by Messrs. C. W. Robb, A. M. Watson, D. D. Bruce, T. J. Keenan, G. M. M'Masters and T. M. Marshall.

The funeral took place in the afternoon, and was largely attended.

Negro Assaulted.

Robert Gibson, a colored man, employed on a keel boat, now lying in the Allegheny river at the foot of Lumber street, in the Ninth ward, made oath before Alderman McMasters, charging one Nicholas McGuire with assault and battery. Gibson was on the boat, at work, when McGuire came aboard, "slightly intoxicated," and ordered him to leave. Gibson refused to do so, when McGuire struck him with his fist and knocked him off the boat, and followed up his "stroke" by beating Gibson fearfully with the end of a two-inch cable. A warrant was issued, and McGuire arrested, and after a hearing he was held in three hundred dollars bail for his appearance at Court.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HELMBOLD'S

Concentrated Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

Eradicates ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE DISEASES of the THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP and SKIN,

Which so disfigure the appearance. PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with perfect safety.

TWO TABLESPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water, is equal to the Liquid Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I have ever witnessed. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so various, and yet irritable as renders their substance of his tonic class unavailable or injurious.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, June 6, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 136¾; Eighty-one bonds, 111¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 109¾; Five Twenties, 1864, 110¼; Five Twenties, 1865, 109¾; 1865 Coupons, 113¾; Ten-Forties, 109@110¾; Seven Ten-Forties, 99¼; Michigan Southern Railroad, 67¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 75¼; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 97; Erie, 59½; Chicago and Rock Island, 87¾; Chicago and Northwestern, 23¾; do preferred, 58.

Gold is firm at 136¾@136¾, owing to a slight decline of United States bonds in London, keeping exchange at the shipping point. There is nothing to indicate an immediate decline but the prospect of good crops, and a necessity of Southern producers and a disposition in general to avail themselves of the present high prices of cereals and flour, will have a powerful influence to lower the premium. The abundance of cash gold makes it a drug in the market, and an unprofitable investment to speculators. Government securities are all lower to-day, especially the 7-30s. Holders of the coupons of 1865 are firmer, but are still lower than any other gold bearing bonds. The stock market is more animated to-day, but either party is timid for fear to lose what is left them. The local money market is very stringent, and high rates are offered for paper not strictly prime.

—The receiver of the Cataract City Bank, of Paterson, New Jersey, notifies holders of that bank that all such notes must be presented for redemption to the treasurer of the State of New Jersey, at Trenton, on or before November 30, 1867, and that holders and owners thereof who fail to present the same will be barred from all right to have notes redeemed.

—The Government now pays the interest upon registered United States securities at New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Chicago, New Orleans, Charleston, Saint Louis, San Francisco, Buffalo and Pittsburgh.

—The New York Tribune says: The letter of Secretary McCulloch has ceased to be regarded as expansive, and it is now fully understood that he must carry on his department until Congress meets in December with temporary loans, if the customs revenue, the internal taxes, and his surplus gold are not sufficient to pay the unexpected expenses for which his letter refers. As he has no power to make fresh issues of paper to be used as circulation, he must come as a borrower, and his presence in this is justly dreaded by inferior borrowers who must yield him the preference. Next week in the payment of the compound notes, the department will destroy eight millions of legal tenders forming the most desirable reserve held by the banks. They will probably get in exchange for it a good deal of National Bank currency. This is not wasted, but on the other hand is shunned by the banks holding compound notes, none of them carrying their aversion so far as to make them prefer to carry past due compound notes rather than national bank notes. What with paying compounds due in June, July and August, and disbursing the interest on the compounds in June and July, the locations of the Treasury Department promises to be felt in the money market as sensibly as at any time during the rebellion, with this difference. During the war it was the creator of currency, the purchaser for everything, and the great employer of labor throughout the country. It is now moving in a reverse direction, steadily withdrawing currency it so freely issued, and by this process reducing the market value of the entire property of the country. Successes of nature, through the promise of an abundant crop, are helping prices down, and the unwelcome fact is apparent, that the debts of the people are to be paid by the proceeds of crops selling at daily declining prices. While the profits of trade, and the profits of producers are thus being reduced in market value, the government steadily regains from the labor of the country taxes to the extent of 500,000 to 700,000 per cent. and ordinary expenses. With a good crop of cereals, cotton and farm produce there follows naturally cheaper labor, cheaper manufactures, and a general return from the gambling which has attended all business for the past three years to moderate profits which reward commercial pursuits in ordinary times. The process is one which, though healthy, will surely change the names of many commercial houses, and clear away quite a multitude of them.

—Says the Chicago Tribune, of Wednesday: In mercantile circles there is a rather nervous feeling, induced by the failures which have taken place within the past week, and there is less disposition than ever to sell goods unless for cash. Credit is being finely sifted, and names which in ordinary times would be pronounced "good," must now be backed with undoubted collaterals or endorsements. Notwithstanding that business is very dull, we are satisfied that the great majority of our merchants are in a healthy condition. Stocks have not been large at any time this season, and if any losses have been incurred, they must of necessity have been comparatively light.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, June 6, 1867.

CRUDE—The market continues dull and unchanged. We can report a sale of 1000 bbls, on spot, at 7c, and 400, on spot, at same price—all June and July may be quoted nominally at 7½c. The only thing that keeps the price of spot oil up is the very limited arrivals, and it is not likely that the receipts will be increased any until the price declines sufficiently at Oil City to afford a margin for dealers—the demand in this market is very light both for present and future delivery; and, indeed, buyers are very scarce at any price.

REFINED—There is still some little inquiry for bonded oil, but the market continues very dull, and prices, it would seem, have not yet touched bottom. We can report a sale of 500 bbls, prime light straw to white, for immediate delivery, at 25½c; 500 for June, buyer's option, at 25c, and 500 bbls standard white, 500 each month, from July to December, at 26½c.

ARRIVALS.—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

MEDICAL.

CONSUMPTION!

It would take a man a lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood These are the usual outward symptoms, apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening, and they are employed cautiously in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of chest. The signs or symptoms elicited in this way are almost surely demonstrate the true and exact condition of the respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every diseased part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which carries, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, just as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflammatory action, which action, if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by enabling the securing or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and repair are easily comprehended, and if the worn out material be carried off, and the renewing material of a proper character, there must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and dis-ease. In many cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup fails to cure, although it will do good a nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to be renewed, while it dissolves and carries out from the body thos particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewing material being deposited in proper place.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected; and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief in the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisements in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me th upper obe of my left lung was very much diseased. Yet he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and could gradually feel myself getting stronge and my cough and expectoration lessening, have gained greatly in flesh, and consider m self well; all the rattling of my lung has cease and my general health is in every way good. A my relatives and friends know of the advance stage of my disease and my extraordinary recov ery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE which I took in connection with the other treatment.
